Introduction

The Law of Attraction is a universal law that governs all living beings. No person can escape the fundamental principle of this law, namely that the energy you send out determines the nature of your reality. Unfortunately, many people either don’t know about the Law of Attraction or they simply choose to ignore its significance. As a result, they suffer the consequences of the negative energy that they needlessly hold onto. Furthermore, most people fail to use the Law of Attraction to purposefully shape and transform their life. This book will reveal 101 secrets on how to use the Law of Attraction in order to not only eliminate the negative elements from your life, but also to create a life of abundance in every way, including relationships, money, health and even happiness. By using the techniques contained in this book you will be able to create the life of your very dreams!
Chapter 1: How the Law of Attraction Works

Before getting into the 101 different techniques on how to use the Law of Attraction to achieve financial success, health and happiness it is necessary to discuss just what the Law of Attraction really is. The first thing to recognize is that this isn’t a theory or a rule. It isn’t some person’s opinion based on a single event or a mathematical equation. Rather, this is a law. Since it is a law it cannot be broken, unlike rules, theories or opinions. Some might argue that laws are broken all the time, resulting in prisons and the people who inhabit them. However, those laws are the laws of mankind, and as such they are actually rules, not laws. True laws are concepts that are unavoidable and unbreakable, such as any of the laws of physics. Natural laws, such as the law of natural selection, are also of this caliber. Basically, any laws that exist outside of mankind and manmade institutions are ones that define how reality works, and as such they are completely unbreakable.

The Law of Attraction is one of these universal laws. Mankind didn’t invent the Law of Attraction, just as they didn’t invent the laws of physics. Rather, mankind discovered the Law of Attraction. The reason why this law was able to be discovered is that it creates a pattern of reality that can be observed, demonstrated and even predicted. In short, the Law of Attraction states that like attracts like, and that the energy you send out is the energy you get back. This pattern can be traced in the life of any person, regardless of age, gender, nationality or even religious preference. A person generating positive energy will create a positive reality for themselves. This can include happy relationships, financial wellbeing, or just a happy day to day existence in general. Alternatively, a person generating negative energy will create a negative reality for themselves. More often than not a negative person will have poor relationships, ill health, and even financial troubles. Never, ever, will you find a negative person with happy relationships, good health and all around happiness. Nor will you find a positive person with a completely negative state of reality.

In the end it all comes down to energy. When positive energy is generated positive results are created. This notion points to one of the key aspects of the Law of Attraction. Each and every person is wholly capable of, and responsible for, creating their personal reality. When we let things go as they are then our reality is based on our natural energy. The more positive a person is, the more positive their life will be. The more negative a person is, the more negative their life will be. However, when we take charge of our energies and actively create positive energy then there is no limit to what any of us can achieve. Therefore, while the Law of Attraction isn’t breakable it is usable. While you cannot escape its effect on your life you can use it to shape the very fabric of your life.
This book will reveal 101 tips on how to do just that—how to use the Law of Attraction to create the very life of your dreams!
Chapter 2: Discovering Your True Nature

Before a person can tap into the infinite energies in the universe they must first discover their true nature. This is where a person’s true beliefs, talents and even desires reside. Most people spend their lives trying to develop skills and beliefs that others tell them are of value. This prevents them from being able to tap into their inherent power and potential. Only when a person takes the time and effort to discover their true nature will they be able to utilize their inherent strengths to be able to create the boundless success that is available to them and them alone. Therefore, before you begin to learn the techniques for attracting and utilizing the universal energies that can bring about wealth, success and happiness you must first take the time to discover just who you truly are. The following techniques will help you to find your true self and to utilize the many resources you already possess.

What to do

1. Ask yourself how much you really know about who you are. Take the time to explore the things that make you truly happy, as well as the things that cause you worry or distress.

2. Take the time to contemplate the things you truly want to achieve. It is vital that you stop chasing after other people’s dreams and begin to chase after the dreams that belong to you.

3. Recognize your inherent skills and strengths. Your true desires are a reflection of your inherent abilities, thus understand that you have the talents needed to achieve your true dreams.

4. Discover your true beliefs. What makes most people fail is that they try to adopt other people’s beliefs. You need your own personal belief system to carry you through your personal journey.

5. Determine your personal values. In addition to personal beliefs every person has a specific set of values inherently unique to them. These values will help you to determine the choices that are right or wrong for you.

6. Connect with your inner beauty. Each and every person has a certain charm or beauty that is unique to them. When you discover yours you can use it as a tool to promote your personal success in all areas of life.

7. Recognize the skills you have developed over time. In addition to inherent skills you have the skills and lessons that you have accumulated through experience. Take the time to evaluate any skills or lessons you have learned during your life.
8. Integrate all of your talents. Contemplate your full list of skills and talents, both inherent and learned. By augmenting your inherent skills with your learned skills you will increase your potential exponentially.

9. Recognize the things you don’t believe. When you know what you don’t believe you can avoid paths that might lead you from your true nature. This will ensure that you always follow the paths that are right for you.

10. Embrace your individuality. Nature made you one of a kind, and that means you have potential unlike anyone else. By embracing your unique nature you can fulfill your true potential with a free and open mind.

11. Appreciate how fortunate you already are. Realize that your dreams, abilities and experiences all fit together to create a wonderful reality that only you can unfold.

12. Commit completely to your journey. The people who are most successful are those who stick to their path no matter what. Never give up on your journey, and never lose sight of your dreams.

13. Embrace unique perspectives. Inherent wisdom is often unconventional in appearance. Therefore, appreciate wisdom and vision that defies conventional thinking.

14. Be proud to be you. Fear of rejection often keeps people from being true to their inner nature. By being proud of who you are you can turn your life into an artistic expression of self with every action you take.

15. Live for yourself. Too much time and energy is wasted wondering about how others will perceive our actions. Decide to live for yourself, thus eliminating this extra burden.

What not to do

16. Don’t let others talk you out of your dreams. Far too many people abandon their dreams because other people simply don’t share their vision or their beliefs.

17. Don’t second guess your intuition. Intuition is a natural source of wisdom that can see beyond conventional perception. It is always true and should never be doubted.

18. Don’t be sorry for who you are. If your dreams and beliefs cause other people discomfort that is their issue, not yours. Don’t feel bad when others can’t rise to your level of life.

19. Never betray your ideals. It is vital that you never abandon your personal beliefs or skills in an attempt to achieve your goals. While other methods might appear promising they will never match your personal strengths, beliefs and skills.
20. Never lose your ability to laugh. There are always going to be setbacks and mistakes along the way in any journey. Rather than getting angry or distressed simply laugh them off. As long as you live your true life you are always on top.
Chapter 3: Developing Your State of Mind

One way to think about the Law of Attraction is to imagine yourself as a radio. The radio waves that the radio sends out are only as strong as the radio itself. Thus, a small radio will only be able to transmit over a short distance. Additionally, a small radio will only have limited reception, meaning that it can only receive a limited amount of incoming radio waves. However, a large radio will be able to transmit more radio waves over a greater distance and it will be able to receive more radio waves as well. People are very much like radios, except instead of dealing in radio waves they deal in energy. When a person’s mind is small or limited in terms of sending or receiving energy then that person is limited to a small amount of success. However, when a person has a strong and vibrant mind, free of interference and clutter, then they are able to create and receive far more energy, thereby being able to achieve greater levels of success. The key, therefore, is to develop your mind in order to increase your ability to send and receive the energy necessary to achieve your goals. Listed below are some of the most important things you need to do in order to fully develop your mind.

What to do

21. Identify all your negative thoughts about money. Many times what stands in the way of a person obtaining wealth is a negative mindset about wealth itself. If you feel that money is evil you won’t open yourself to it freely.

22. Discard negative thoughts about wealth. Once you determine any negative thoughts or emotions about money and wealth you need to erase them and replace them with a fresh and positive outlook instead.

23. Learn to love paying your bills. Negative energy is the biggest enemy to any success. Therefore, rather than resenting bills, which creates negative energy, embrace your ability to pay them, thereby creating a positive vibe.

24. Understand the value of generosity. Most people aren’t generous because they feel they can’t afford to be. By increasing your generosity you increase your sense of financial wellbeing.

25. Understand the value of gratitude. When you refuse another person’s generosity you create a negative block. Always accept generosity with gratitude, thereby creating an open flow of positive energy.

26. Use affirmations to affect your mindset. Only when you focus your mind on an outcome you desire will you be able to realize that outcome. Use daily affirmations to program your mind to better visualize and expect those outcomes.
27. Take time to appreciate your progress. The race to the finish line can often be a marathon more than a sprint. Therefore, it is important to mark the progress you have made in order to maintain your sense of inspiration and confidence.

28. Use questions to open your mind. When you begin to question how to achieve your goals your mind will open up to the answers the universe has to offer. Therefore, constantly open your mind by asking how things can be achieved.

29. Visualize your financial success. If you only see yourself where you are, then that is where you will always be. It is critical to envision yourself where you want to be, thereby attracting that reality.

30. Take things one step at a time. The more steps you take on a journey is the further you will go. Therefore, appreciate each and every step as a critical part of your journey.

31. Turn your failures into feasts. When a person sees a failure in a negative light they can’t learn the lessons available in that failure. Use failures to teach you the wisdom you need to achieve your goals. Feast on the information that failures provide.

32. Learn to appreciate confusion, frustration and even fear. Instead of letting confusion distress you, appreciate it as a chance for you to learn. Additionally, recognize frustration as a sign that things are going slower than you hoped, meaning that you have the highest of hopes. Embrace fear as a measure of how much you value what you have and the dreams you are chasing.

33. Always stay positive. Things won’t always go according to plan. This doesn’t mean failure, so don’t allow negativity to creep in. Stay positive and the right paths will always open up to you.

34. Celebrate disappointments. If something doesn’t turn out the way you thought enjoy the fact that you discovered it anyway. Achieving a goal is just as important even if that goal turns out to be less than you expected.

35. Always remain flexible. Twists and turns and unforeseen obstacles can hinder the path to success, therefore it is critical to remain flexible in your mindset so that you can navigate these things easily and without undue distress.

36. Listen to the whispers. Even though the universe is vast it sometimes chooses to talk in whispers. Listen for the softly spoken intuitions and follow them with the same conviction as you would the louder intuitions.

37. Learn to whisper yourself. Recognize that you don’t have to shout to get your point across. This goes for talking to other people, yourself, and even the universe.
What not to do

38. Never stop learning. When you think you know it all, that’s when things begin to go badly. You will never know more than the universe, so never stop learning, and never stop following the universe’s advice.

39. Never get greedy. Greed is a sign of fear and it builds negative energy. Only by giving can you be open to receiving, therefore never stop giving freely.

40. Never give up. Success is only achieved by running the whole race. Even if you get tired or frustrated, never give up on your dreams.
Chapter 4: Transforming Your Energy

Once you develop your state of mind, you can begin to transform the energy that you send out into the universe. Needless to say, the first place to start is to discover the true nature of your energy. All too often people possess more negative energy than they realize, and that negativity serves to block them from being able to send out positive vibes as well as preventing them from receiving positive energy from the universe. Only when negative energy is removed can a person live up to their true and intended potential. By transforming negative energy into positive energy you can ensure that your efforts meet with greater success each and every time. In turn, these successes will enable you to achieve any goal, no matter how grandiose it might be. Some of the most effective methods for transforming your energy are listed below.

What to do

41. Take the time to discover the true nature of your energy. Just as you took the time to discover your true self and your true state of mind, so too, you must evaluate the nature of your energy as it currently exists.

42. Remove negative tendencies. Many people blame themselves for every setback and failure they experience. This leads to guilt and low self-esteem. Remove these emotions once and for all and break any habits that generate negative energy.

43. Be happy for others. When other people succeed it can cause us to feel a sense of envy. This envy is negative and will only prevent us from achieving our own success. Always be happy for others when they succeed.

44. Always be kind. When others mistreat you it can cause anger and disdain. By allowing those emotions you create a negative barrier that blocks out good energy. Always be kind and compassionate, even to those who wrong you.

45. Discover the power of joy. One reason why successful people are happy is that happy people are successful. The happier you are in day to day life the more positive your energy will become.

46. Immerse yourself in love. The most powerful positive energy is that of love. Therefore, when your life is filled with loving relationships you surround yourself with the most powerful energy in existence.

47. Always be passionate. The more passionate you are, the more energy you put into your life. The more energy you put into your life the more successful you will be.
48. Use your energy wisely. Rather than dividing your energy in order to tackle numerous tasks, choose to do one task at a time with all the energy you have. This will create infinitely better results.

49. Be blissful. Never forget that you are spending each and every day pursuing your dreams. A person living a life of dreams should be ever blissful.

50. Protect yourself from negativity. Not sending out negativity is only half the battle. You need to also protect yourself by avoiding anyone who sends out negative energy.

51.  Remain childlike in your mind. Remember how happy and blissful you were as a child and reclaim that energy again. Treat each day as you did when you were at your happiest time in childhood.

52. Remember to play. All work and no play will result in resentment and fatigue. Always be playful, even when you are working, and your energy will always be positive.

53. Choose to be happy. There will be times when your natural reaction might not be positive. It is in these times that you must make the choice to be happy rather than negative.

54. Recognize the value of happiness. Money in and of itself has no real value. The only value it has is the happiness it can provide. Therefore, the true secret is that happiness is the source of real prosperity.

55. Understand the nature of positivity. Positivity is the natural form of energy, acting as a conductor. When you eliminate negativity only positive energy remains. This is the essence of attraction.

56. Understand the nature of negativity. While positive energy acts as a conductor, negative energy acts as a barrier. By banishing negativity you remove all blocks that would prevent your success, thereby making success inevitable.

What not to do

57. Never stop being grateful. Only when you are grateful for what you have will you be deserving of anything more. Gratitude is the ultimate open door for abundance.

58. Never envy others. Envy is a negative energy, therefore when you envy others you build a barrier that keeps you from your own success.

59. Never judge others. Judging others is a serious source of negative energy. When you judge others you will begin to judge yourself as well, and that only leads to more and more negative energy.
60. Never stop loving life. Life is the ultimate gift the universe gives each and every one of us. When we stop loving that gift we give up the right to ask for more gifts.
Chapter 5: Connecting With the Universe

Now that you have developed your state of mind and have transformed your energy you are ready to send positive energy into the universe. This is a critical step in the process of attraction. However, it is essential to first form a stronger connection with the universe. Only when you connect to the universe will you be able to receive the energies that the universe sends your way. These energies will consist of inspiration, intuition and even opportunities and other tangible results. The stronger your connection with the universe is the more capable you will be for receiving what the universe has to offer. This ability to receive is absolutely imperative when it comes to the Law of Attraction. After all, being able to attract wealth and financial freedom is of no value if you can’t actually receive them. The best methods for creating a strong and vibrant connection with the universe are listed below.

What to do

61. Open your heart and mind. Only when you have an open heart and mind will you be able to receive what the universe sends your way. The more open you are, the more you can receive.

62. Get good at receiving. Sometimes a person might give you something you don’t want or can’t use. Instead of refusing the gift accept it graciously. This creates the habit of receiving whatever comes your way.

63. Recognize that prosperity is the natural state of being. The universe is rich beyond imagination. Know that when negative energies are removed prosperity is inevitable.

64. Know that you are closer than you think. The truth of the matter is that every person is only ever a few adjustments away from being able to fulfill their true potential.

65. See the universe as your partner. You don’t have to earn the universe’s love or respect. It already loves you and wants you to succeed. It is only waiting for you to do your part.

66. Know your value. You are a child of the universe. That means that you deserve everything the universe has to give, just like any child deserves the love and devotion of their physical parents.

67. Ask and you will receive. All too often the only thing that stands between a person and their dreams is asking the universe to fulfill those dreams. Ask and you will receive.

68. Turn your thoughts into energy. Simply thinking about something isn’t enough. You have to feel your desires. When you turn your thoughts into energy you can communicate your desires to the universe.
69. Let energy do its thing. You don’t have to make energy work for you. Positive energy will always yield positive results.

70. Use your dreams to create your reality. Dreams are the stuff of imagination and energy, therefore they are the building blocks of all reality. Use your dreams to create the life you so richly deserve.

71. Accept the unseen forces in your life. Whether you see it or not, the energy of the universe is always around you. Accept that unseen forces are a very real part of your visible and tangible world.

72. Know the value of desire. If you can truly desire a thing you can make that thing come true. Imagination is at the heart of all reality. If you can see it, you can make it happen.

73. Know that success is looking for you. As earnestly as you are seeking success, success is also seeking you. Each of you needs the other to be truly complete.

74. Use expectation to your advantage. When bad things happen people usually say that they expected it. Stop expecting bad things and they will stop happening. Get into the habit of expecting good things.

75. Know that you are perfect. Each person is a unique expression of the universe. Therefore, you are perfect just as you are. You don’t have to earn success, you just have to accept it.

76. Let go of destiny. Positive energy creates positive results. You have the power to transform your energy, therefore you have the power to transform your life. You get what you create, not what you deserve.

What not to do

77. Don’t expect the universe to read your mind. You need to ask for what you want. If you don’t ask for it the universe won’t send it.

78. Don’t try to become someone you aren’t. The universe made you the way you are to fill a hole that only you can fill. Only by being true to yourself can you find your true place in the grand scheme of things.

79. Never stop dreaming. Always dream of the things you want and the person you want to be. When you stop dreaming you stop creating.

80. Don’t wait for a savior. No one can change your life except you. Recognize that you have everything you need to create the life of your dreams and begin to live up to your true potential.
Chapter 6: Using the Law of Attraction to Create Health and Happiness

In addition to wealth and financial abundance the Law of Attraction can also serve to provide you with all of the health and happiness you could ever ask for. The basic principles for attracting prosperity are the ones used for attracting health and happiness, so some of the methods will be similar if not the same as others already mentioned. After all, the Law of Attraction is not limited to one thing or another. Rather, it is the principle that allows you to manifest anything that you desire, no matter what it might be. Therefore, happiness and health are just as achievable as are financial prosperity or any other form of success in life. Listed below are 10 techniques for manifesting health and 10 tips for manifesting happiness.

Health techniques

81. Take time every day to recognize the health you have. When you spend your time fixated on the things that are wrong you will feed those negative energies. Only by focusing on what’s right will you feed the positive energies that bring health and wellbeing.

82. Spend time with health nuts. People that go to the gym or who do outdoor activities exude healthy positive energy. Being around those people will improve your energy and thus, your health.

83. Don’t tell everyone your health problems. Tell your doctor of course, and your significant other. If you tell others they will identify you as being sick, and thus cause you more harm than good.

84. Stay away from sickness in the news. News has become a tool for fear and negativity. It will often talk about sickness and disease, causing you to fear being sick.

85. Stay away from people who enjoy being sick. Anyone who talks about their health problems is a danger to be around. Their focus is on being sick, and that only attracts more sickness.

86. Avoid stressful situations. Stress has been shown to be a significant cause of sickness and disease. Avoiding stress will help you to remain fit and well.

87. Dream of being well. Just as dreams can create financial well-being, so too can they create physical well-being.

88. Use affirmations. If you program your mind with affirmations of health, your mind will create that health.
89. Know the energy of the universe is inside you. Recognize that the energy of the stars courses through your veins. What disease can withstand that?!

90. Know the self-healing nature of your body. The body is designed to self-regulate and self-restore. Therefore, all you have to do is give your body the time and energy it needs and it will take care of the rest.

Happiness techniques

91. Stay away from unhappy people. Unhappy people generate negative energy. By staying away from them you avoid the negativity that would rob you of your happiness.

92. Stop trying to please others. One reason that so many people are unhappy is that they spend all their time trying to please other people. Spend your time and energy pleasing yourself.

93. Stay focused on the good things that happen. If you only evaluate the things that went wrong in your day you will become stressed and frustrated. Celebrate all the things that went right and you will stay happy.

94. Fill your mind with happy thoughts. One thing that creates unhappiness more than anything is a mind full of unhappy thoughts. By keeping negative thoughts out you will keep happiness in.

95. Take time to enjoy the small things. When you can enjoy the small things in life there will never be a shortage of things to make you happy.

96. Ditch criticism. When you criticize people and situations you focus your vision on bad things. This makes you unhappy as a result. Focus on the good side of things and you will find happiness in all things.

97. Take time to appreciate what you have. Too much desire can result in being dissatisfied with life. When you appreciate what you have you find joy in the life you live.

98. Be grateful. Thank the universe for everything it has given to you and done for you. This will remind you of how wonderful the universe is and how wonderful your life really is.

99. Help others. When you take time to help other people you get a chance to put your own life into perspective. This often removes any complaints you might be dwelling on.

100. Get a pet. There is no better source of pure love and joy than a pet. Whether it’s a cat, a dog, or whatever, a pet will remind you how wonderful each and every day truly is.
Tip 101

Of all the tips listed in this book, the most important in terms of the Law of Attraction is this:

101. Love yourself for who you are. When you love yourself for who you are you eliminate all negativity, opening yourself to all that the universe has to offer. Additionally, only when you love yourself can you truly love others. Thus, all your relationships will improve, including that with the universe itself. You are truly wonderful, so love you for who you are!
Conclusion

Now that you have discovered the 101 secrets that can create financial freedom, abundant health and overflowing happiness you can begin to transform your life like never before. By eliminating the negative energy in your thoughts and feelings you can open yourself up to the endless resources that the universe has to give. Additionally, by creating and utilizing positive energy you can begin to create your reality in such a way that anything you dream will be within reach. No amount of prosperity, health, love or happiness will be impossible as long as you can imagine it. The very best of luck on transforming your life into the life you so richly deserve—the life of your dreams!
